

Center for Slavic and East European Studies

Newsletter

361 Stephens Hall
University of California
Berkeley, CA 94720
642-3230

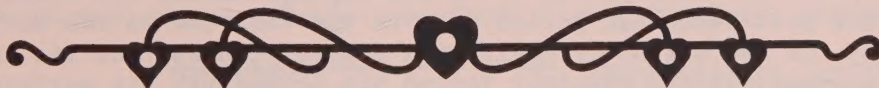

SEPTEMBER 1985

WELCOME!

A very warm welcome to all friends of the Center, both on and off campus, and a special greeting to all newcomers to Berkeley's Slavic and East European program! The Center's staff welcome your questions and invite you to take full advantage of our resources. We offer a wide variety of campus activities, including a regular bag lunch program, lectures, and conferences. Our library, in the reading room of the Institute of International Studies Library, 340 Stephens Hall, holds numerous Soviet and East European newspapers and journals, as well as Western scholarly and emigre publications on the area. In our new office in 361 Stephens, we maintain files on research assistantships, fellowships, professional employment opportunities, and study/travel programs.

To publicize news pertaining to the study of the Slavic/East European area, the Center publishes a monthly Newsletter, which is supplemented by a monthly Calendar Update, and sends out announcements of special events. Anyone who wishes to receive our mailings, or to provide information for the Newsletter, should contact our office.

Please feel welcome to use our library, take advantage of the coffee, tea and cookies in the graduate students' lounge one floor above, and stop by our bulletin board to keep abreast of recent notices. We urge new graduate students, in particular, to come by and sign up for our mailing list and graduate student registry, and to learn about the Certificate in Russian and East European Studies. Our primary goal is to provide a stimulating and broad array of interdisciplinary activities for students, staff and faculty, and for interested members of the community.

Slavic Center Reception

The Center for Slavic and East European Studies will host a reception for all interested faculty, students, staff, and friends of the Center. Come get acquainted with the Center staff and programs and with one another. The Chair of the Center, Professor Gail Lapidus of the Department of Political Science, will introduce faculty and visiting researchers, and comment on the functions and activities of the Center for the coming year. Refreshments will be served. We hope to see you there!

18 September 1985

The Women's Faculty Club

4-6 pm

PROCESSED

JUN 08 2006

GTU LIBRARY

⁺GLEB STRUVE (1898-1985)

Gleb Petrovich Struve, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures, died on June 4, 1985. He was a teacher and scholar of rare distinction, and had been a leading figure in the campus community, the Center for Slavic and East European Studies, and his own Department for nearly four decades.

Born in St. Petersburg on April 19 (May 1), 1898, he was the eldest son of the well-known economist and socio-political philosopher, Pyotr Berngardovich Struve. After completing secondary school during World War I in his native city, now Petrograd, in 1916, he accompanied his father on a trip to England and then served as a volunteer soldier in early 1917 and in General Alekseev's Army after the October Revolution. Briefly imprisoned by the Red Army, he left Soviet Russia illegally in December 1918 and never returned, remaining implacably opposed to the Soviet system throughout his life. He studied modern history at Oxford (Balliol College) between 1919 and 1921. From 1922 to 1932 he worked as a journalist and literary critic in Berlin and Paris.

Struve began his final professional career in 1932, when he was chosen to replace D.S. Mirsky at the School of Slavonic and East European Studies in the University of London. After World War II, he was invited to Berkeley for the academic year 1946-1947. He was appointed to a regular position in 1947, which he held until his retirement in 1967.

The first four editions of his classic history of Soviet literature—which on the model of his London predecessor's standard English-language histories of Russian literature was careful to place literature in its political and social context—was published in England in 1935; its last edition was in 1971. (It has been translated into a number of languages, including Russian in the USSR, a version unpublished but designed for use by select members of the Soviet political and literary establishment.) In 1956, Professor Struve published his indispensable history of Russian émigré literature (Russkaya literatura v izgnanii; second edition, 1984). These two volumes were a remarkable achievement, setting down as it were an eyewitness and severely judged account of the whole of Russian literature after the Revolution. Of prime importance are his editions (produced jointly with Boris Filippov) of modern Russian poets—Anna Akhmatova, Nikolai Gumilyov, Nikolai Kliuev, Osip Mandelstam, Boris Pasternak, Marina Tsvetaeva, Maksimilian Voloshin, Nikolai Zabolotsky—which now provide the basis for the study of these poets and have proved to be the impetus behind the burgeoning interest in Russian poetry of the post-Symbolist period both in the West and in the Soviet Union. With Nicholas Riasanovsky, he was editor of California Slavic Studies from its inception in 1960 until only recently, when failing eyesight forced him to curtail his activities.

In addition to his indefatigable editorial activities and prodigious scholarship, (his partial bibliography, in California Slavic Studies XI, 1980, lists over 900 items), Struve was a discerning collector of documents relating to his father's career and to émigré culture, and of first editions of émigré poetry. It is hoped that this archive, together with his own enormous correspondence and working materials for the editions of Russian poetry, will be deposited in the Bancroft Library.

Recognition from his peers and students in his lifetime came in the form of an honorary degree (LLD, Toronto, 1971), a Festschrift (California Slavic Studies, VI, 1971), the Award for Distinguished Contributions to Slavic Studies by the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies (1973), and the Berkeley Citation (1978).

His legacy of commitment to Russian culture will persist in the minds and work of his colleagues, students and acquaintances for a long time to come.

VISITING FACULTY 1985-86

KENDALL BAILES, Professor of History and Dean of Humanities at UC Irvine, will be a Visiting Professor in the Department of History during the Fall semester 1985. He will offer a graduate seminar, "Soviet Society: History and Interpretations, 1917-1953" (History 280/285). Professor Bailes is known in particular for his work on Soviet history, with special emphasis on the Lenin and Stalin periods.

JACQUES LEVESQUE, Professor of Political Science, University of Quebec, Montreal, will be a Visiting Professor with the Berkeley-Stanford Program on Soviet International Behavior, in the Department of Political Science at Berkeley, during 1985-86. He will teach a graduate seminar this Fall, "Conflicts and Patterns of Conflict Between the USSR and Other Communist States" (PoliSci 229B) and an undergraduate lecture course Spring semester. Professor Levesque will be continuing his research on the theme of conflict between Communist states, and will participate in the activities of the Berkeley-Stanford Program.

PETER HAUSLOHNER, Assistant Professor of Political Science at Yale University, will be the Center's Mellon Post-Doctoral Fellow for 1985-86, in residence at Berkeley from November through June. He will be preparing his dissertation, "Managing the Soviet Labor Market: Politics and Policy-making Under Brezhnev," for publication in book form.

LI JINGJIE, Deputy Chief of the Section on Soviet Foreign Relations of the Institute of Soviet and East European Studies, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, Beijing, plans to be here from October 1985 until September 1986. An expert on Soviet regional relations, Mr. Li will be working on a study of US-Soviet relations during the 1980s.

LIU GUANGQING, Senior Research Fellow and Chief of the Department of Soviet and East European Studies at the Shanghai Institute for International Studies, will be at the Center for the month of September 1985. After his stay here, he will visit several other US campuses and will serve as a member of the PRC delegation to the Third World Congress of Slavic and East European Studies in Washington DC, 30 October - 4 November.

WELCOME TO NEW GRADUATE STUDENTS!

We are pleased to announce that the following students will begin their graduate work at Berkeley this year, and that they have made known their interest in the Slavic/East European area. If we have missed anyone, please come forward and introduce yourself!

Name	Department	Undergraduate Institution
Andrea Altschuler	Sociology	University of California, Berkeley
Martin Bern	Political Science	Tufts
Arista Cirtautas	Political Science	University of Indiana
Marc Garcelon	Sociology	University of Washington
Mark Hall	Anthropology	University of California, Berkeley
Stephen Hanson	Political Science	Harvard University
Marcia Levenson	Geography	Evergreen State College
Adam B. Snyder	History	Haverford College
Carla Thorson	History	University of Wisconsin

CENTER PROGRAM FUNDING

We would like to remind Center-affiliated faculty and graduate students that funds are available under the National Resource Centers and Fellowships program for activities as follows:

Travel Grants

The Center will award a limited number of travel grants to Slavic and East European area program faculty and graduate students. These grants will be awarded in support of travel for the purpose of presenting a paper at a meeting or recognized scholarly association or institution. The grants will not exceed $350, and are for domestic travel only. Interested persons should contact Dr. Elizabeth Shepard at the Center, 642-5245.

Speakers Bureau

The Center's Speakers Bureau was established to increase Center cooperation with Bay Area schools and community organizations. This service will coordinate requests for speakers and will offer honoraria to faculty and graduate students for speaking engagements. Interested persons should contact Dr. Shepard, as above.

SLAVIC HOUSE

Slavic House is a residence near campus for undergraduate and graduate students who are taking a Slavic language. The House is run under the auspices of the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures. They plan a full program of lectures, films, field trips, and discussions on Slavic and East European cultures. Non-residents are welcome to participate in these activities through membership in the Slavic House Association. For further information, contact the Slavic Department faculty coordinator, Olga Astromoff.

BAG LUNCH LECTURE SERIES 1985-86

Our continuing bag lunch program series will be held on Wednesday afternoons at noon, in 442 Stephens, one floor above the Center offices. Regular programs will be held twice monthly with occasional variations on the schedule. In this series, the Center arranges presentations on a variety of topics, many of an informal nature. Please invite your friends, bring your lunch, and enrich your noon hour! We provide coffee and cookies. The schedule is:

Winter 1985

September	25
October	2
	16
	30
November	6
	20
December	4

Spring 1986

January	22
February	5
	19
March	5
	19
April	2
	16
	30

Information on bag lunches is printed in the Calendar section of the Newsletter, and in the monthly Calendar Update. Watch for speakers, titles, and changes of dates.

Berkeley-Stanford Program on Soviet International Behavior

New Students The Berkeley-Stanford Program is welcoming three incoming students:

Martin Bern - Political Science, UC Berkeley, graduate of Harvard University
Kimberly Marten - Political Science, Stanford, graduate of Harvard University
Laura Rozelle - Political Science, Stanford, graduate of Emory University

Continuing students who are receiving fellowship support for the coming year, and who will be taking courses to satisfy the requirements of the Berkeley-Stanford Program include:

Donna Adler, Political Science, UC Berkeley
David McFadden, History, UC Berkeley
Mark Saroyan, Political Science, UC Berkeley

Summer Support The BSPSIB supported the intensive language study of Program students from both Berkeley and Stanford. Berkeley students who received support include:

Andrew Carpendale: studied Russian in Leningrad
Russell Faeges: studied Russian in Leningrad
James Goldgeier: studied Russian at Berkeley
Jeff Kopstein: studied German in Berlin
Wales Mack: studied Russian in Leningrad

Stanford students who received support include:

Marjorie Castle: studied Polish in Kracow
John Hannah: studied Russian at Middlebury
Lee Metcalf: studied Russian in Moscow

Handbook A Handbook for Program students has been produced. The Handbook answers many questions students might have about the Program, associated faculty, course requirements, and the like. It is divided into 13 sections that offer both a description of the Program and such practical information as procedures for taking courses at the other campus, travel between campuses, and how and when to apply for summer support. The Handbook will be available in early September at the Slavic Center, UC Berkeley, 361 Stephens Hall (642-3230).

Recent Visitors DR. ALEXANDER NIKITIN, Research Scholar, Institute for the Study of the USA and Canada, Moscow, paid his second visit to the Program during the week of July 31 - August 5. Dr. Nikitin met with faculty, gave a presentation on "US and Soviet Perspectives on Strength and Weakness," and commented on Professor George Breslauer's paper on "Ideology and the Prospects for US-Soviet Collaboration."

DR. TYRUS COBB, of the National Security Council, visited the BSPSIB in early August. He discussed current trends in US-Soviet relations with members of the Program.

Visiting Scholar DR. JACQUES LEVESQUE, Professor of Political Science, University of Quebec, Montreal, will be the BSPSIB 1985-86 Visiting Scholar. Professor Levesque is especially well-known for his work on conflict between Communist regimes. He will teach a graduate seminar at Berkeley this Fall, PS229B, "Conflict and Patterns of Conflict Between the USSR and Other Communist States," and an undergraduate lecture course here in the Spring. In addition, Professor Levesque will pursue his research on the same theme, and will participate in the activities of the Berkeley-Stanford Program.

Upcoming Activities Joint Program activities will begin once Stanford is in session, beginning the last week in September. DR. MARK KATZ, scheduled to be the first visitor in October, will give a presentation on Soviet responses to insurgencies against Soviet clients.

FELLOWSHIPS, EMPLOYMENT, STUDY/TRAVEL

RESEARCH CONFERENCES The National Endowment for the Humanities offers grants in support of meetings of scholars for the purpose of discussion and promotion of research in a particular topic or field. Contact: Eugene Sterud, Div. of Research Programs, NEH, 1100 Pennsylvania Ave., NW, Wash. DC 20506, 202/786-0271. Deadline: 15 September 1985.

COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS INC. is accepting applications for the 1986-87 International Affairs Fellowships from US citizens in government, business, professional and academic positions in the foreign policy field. Fellowship period is one year; does not fund pre- or post-doctoral research or work toward a degree. Flyer available at the Center. Send proposal and curriculum vitae to: Director, International Affairs Fellowship Program, Council on Foreign Relations Inc., 58 East 68th St., New York, NY 10021. Deadline: 15 September 1985.

FULBRIGHT-HAYS FELLOWSHIPS AND GRANTS program of University Lecturing and Advanced Research Abroad, administered by the Council for the International Exchange of Scholars, provides about 1,000 awards in about 100 countries for 1986-87. Grants for periods of less than one academic year available for several countries. Berkeley faculty contact the Graduate Division, #1 California Hall, 2-0672. Deadline: 15 September 1985.

TRANSLATIONS - NEH The National Endowment for the Humanities offers grants in support of the creation of annotated translations into English of primary and secondary documents and works significant to the humanities. Contact: Susan Mango, address as in #1. Guidelines available at the Center. Deadline: 15 September 1985.

TRAVEL TO COLLECTIONS NEH offers grants of up to $500 to scholars for travel to research collections of libraries, archives, museums, and others, for use of research materials of fundamental importance to scholar's work. For use of collections in North America and Western Europe; not for work leading to a degree. Contact: Gary Messinger, Div. of Fellowships and Seminars, NEH, address as in #1, 202/786-0466. Deadline: 15 September 1985.

WOODROW WILSON INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR SCHOLARS seeks a Program Secretary for the Kennan Institute for Advanced Russian Studies. Requires professional competence in Russian language, (other languages desirable); published scholarship in the Russian field, preferably recognized by tenure appointment at an American university; knowledge of scholarly community in Russian and Soviet studies; demonstrated ability to raise funds; administrative skills and experience with program development. Appointment to begin 1 January 1986. Send application to: Office of Personnel Administration, Arts and Industries Bldg, Rm 1410, Smithsonian Institution, 900 Jefferson Dr, SW, Washington DC 20560. Deadline: 15 September 1985.

AMERICAN PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY offers grants for scholarly research in all disciplines. PhD usually expected, but other exceptional applicants considered. Younger and less well-established scholars encouraged to apply. Contact the Society at: 104 S. 5th St, Philadelphia, PA 19106, 205/627-0706. Deadlines: 1 October 1985; 1 April 1986; 1 August 1986.

FELLOWSHIPS IN THE ARTS The John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation Fellowships are awarded to those of high intellectual and personal qualifications who have demonstrated unusual capacity for productive scholarship or unusual creative ability in the arts; in music, fellowship awarded only to composers or scholars of music history or theory. Fellows usually between ages of 35 and 45. Center has brochure. For applications, write to the Foundation at: 90 Park Ave, New York, NY 10016. Deadline: 1 October 1985.

SUMMER STIPENDS NEH provides awards of $3,000 for university faculty and others to devote two consecutive summer months to full-time study and research, for two-month or on-going projects. Nominations made by the university, at Berkeley, through the Dean of the Humanities, Prof. Donald Friedman. For guidelines and further info: Summer Stipends Program, NEH, address as in #1, 202/786-0466. Deadline: 1 October 1985.

FELLOWSHIPS, EMPLOYMENT, STUDY/TRAVEL cont

RESIDENTIAL FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars provides fellowships for advanced research in divisions including European Program, Kennan Institute for Advanced Russian Studies, International Security Studies Program, and Program on History, Culture, and Society. For further information, contact the Center: Fellowship Office, Smithsonian Institution Bldg, 1000 Jefferson Dr, SW, Washington DC 20560, 202/357-2841. Deadline: 1 October 1985.

RUSSIAN LANGUAGE STUDY AT LENINGRAD STATE UNIVERSITY 16-week semester, full academic year, and 6-week summer programs available. Students live in LSU dormitories and take meals in the University cafeteria. Students in the full-year program study Russian language and take courses in their major (taught in Russian). UC Berkeley students contact: International Education, 2538 Channing Way, 104 Bldg D, 642-1790, 642-1356. Others: Academic Programs, Council on International Educational Exchange, 205 East 42nd St, New York, NY 10017. Spring semester deadline: 4 October 1985. 1986-87 deadline: 21 January 1986.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY FELLOWSHIPS The Society of Fellows in the Humanities offers Senior Fellowships, 1986-87. Scholars who have held the doctorate and have been teaching full-time for at least five years, but have not received tenure, and who have at least one significant publication may apply. Stipend will be $28,000, plus benefits. Fellows will teach half-time at Columbia. Candidates must be nominated by chair of home department or interdepartmental committee. Nominations should include curriculum vitae with list of publications and papers read, work in progress, and should indicate years of full-time instruction; also, statement from candidate of scholarly project and goals. Requires two additional letters of reference. Send to: The Director, Society of Fellows in the Humanities, Heyman Center for the Humanities, Box 100 Central Mail Room, Columbia University, New York, NY 10027. Deadline: 15 October 1985.

and:

POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS One-year appointments, usually renewed for a second year, provide a stipend of $24,500. Designed to enhance the role of the humanities in the University by exploring and clarifying relationships within the humanities and among the humanities and the natural sciences and the professions. Fellows teach one section of an introductory humanities course each semester of the first year, and usually teach an experimental course as well in the second year. For application forms, contact The Director, Society of Fellows in the Humanities, address as above. Deadline: 15 October 1985.

NATIONAL HUMANITIES CENTER offers residential fellowships in support of advanced study in the humanities, designed to encourage exchange of ideas among humanist scholars and to enhance the influence of the humanities in the US. Awards usually for one academic year; a few may be for one semester. Fields include: history, literature, philosophy, political theory, law, religion, anthropology, art history, and folklore. Center has information, or contact: The National Humanities Center, 7 Alexander Dr, Research Triangle Park, NC 27709. Deadline: 15 October 1985.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY seeks specialist in comparative or international relations with expertise in Soviet politics for tenure track position, rank of Assistant Professor, to begin Fall 1986. PhD required. Will teach undergraduate courses on Soviet political system, Soviet foreign policy; intro. courses in comparative politics and international relations. Send letter of application, credentials, at least three letters of reference to: Prof. Robert H. Birkby, Acting Chairman, Box 1817, Station B, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, TN 37235. Deadline: 31 October 1985.

JOINT COMMITTEE ON SOVIET STUDIES of the Social Science Research Council offers dissertation fellowships in Russian and Soviet studies of up to $15,000/year. Intended to provide one year of support to students who have completed research for the dissertation and wish to complete writing the dissertation. Applications accepted from PhD candidates in any discipline of the social sciences and humanities in Russian and Soviet Studies. Contact: SSRC, 605 Third Ave, New York, NY 10158. Deadline: 1 November 1985.

FELLOWSHIPS, EMPLOYMENT, STUDY/TRAVEL cont

JOINT COMMITTEE ON EAST EUROPEAN STUDIES of the American Council of Learned Societies offers fellowships for research, training, or language study related to East Europe; graduate student and postdoctoral scholars may apply. Contact: ACLS, 228 E. 45th St, New York, NY 10017. No deadline given.

JOINT PUBLICATION RESEARCH SERVICE (JPRS) has continuing need for translators of Albanian, Bulgarian, Czech, Greek, Hungarian, Polish, Russian (scientific/technical/industrial only), Serbo-Croatian, and Soviet Central Asian. Translators work at home; all aspects can be handled by mail; US citizenship not required. Send resume of language(s), education, field of specialization, experience, to: US JPRS, 1000 N. Glebe Rd, Arlington, VA 22201.

FOREIGN BROADCAST INFORMATION SERVICE (FBIS) has continuing need for foreign language officers with strong reading ability in: Albanian, Bulgarian, Czech, German (plus one other language), Hungarian, Polish, Romanian, Russian (science/technology), and Russian (plus one among Kirghiz, Kazakh, Turkmen, Tajik, Azeri, Georgian, Armenian, Latvian, or Uzbek), Serbo-Croatian. Duties include scanning foreign language publications, review and evaluation of translations done by contractors, occasional translation. Requires native or near-native reading ability; very good English. Degree in social or political science, area studies, or international relations desirable. US citizenship required. Work is in Washington DC area. Send resume to: Personnel Office, FBIS, PO Box 2604, Washington DC 20013.

VOICE OF AMERICA recruits continually for international radio broadcasters. Requires fluency in Russian, Uzbek, Azerbaijani, Ukrainian, English; background in broadcast journalism or translating, interpreting, lecturing or acting in the above languages, or teaching above the high school level. Starting salary: $21,804 - $26,381. Send detailed resume, detailed background info., or standard government application SF-171, in English to: VOA, Office of Personnel, Rm 1192, 330 Independence Ave, SW, Washington DC 20547.

PRESIDENT'S CRUISE: THE DANUBE The California Alumni Association seeks to provide a lecturer for its Danube River tour, September 22 - October 5, 1986. Preference given to Berkeley alum and/or faculty member. This tour will visit Romania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Hungary and Austria. Lecturer's passage is complimentary in return for prepared talks pertinent to the countries visited. For further information, and for an interview appointment, contact: Carolyn Sheaff, Coordinator of Travel Services, California Alumni Association, Alumni House, Berkeley, CA 94720, (415/642-3717); or, during 1-25 September, phone Kathy Pratte, 800/325-0068.

For those interested in the tour, it begins in Istanbul, travels through the Bosphorus and Black Sea; from Ismail, along the Danube from Bucharest, with stops at Nikopol/Plevan, Belgrade, Budapest, Bratislava, and Vienna. Contact the Alumni Association for further info.

SOVIET UNION The California Alumni Association offers a tour, 20 September to 11 October 1986. Visit Moscow and Leningrad, take a three-night ride aboard the Trans-Siberian Railroad - includes Lake Baikal, Central Asia, Lake Sevan, Erevan, and the Caucasus Mountains. Contact the Alumni Association, as above.

late entry! KENYON COLLEGE seeks Assistant Professor, tenure-track, in international relations to begin Fall 1986. Seek candidates with PhD by Fall 1986, broadly trained in political science with primary teaching and scholarly interest in international relations. Should also be familiar with politics and foreign policy of USSR, Middle East, or Western Europe, and with American policy toward those areas. Background in political theory sufficient to teach introductory course desirable. Send vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of recommendation to: Prof. Kirk Emmert, Dept. of Political Science, Kenyon College, Gambier, OH 43022. Deadline: 10 November 1985.

IREX NOTICE! A flyer with information on programs of the International Research and Exchanges Board is available at the Center, 361 Stephens, or phone 642-3230. First application deadline is 15 October 1985. IREX has announced new and expanded programs for the USSR and East Europe.

CENTER FOR SLAVIC AND EAST EUROPEAN STUDIES

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Thur Sept 5 442 Stephens 4 pm
PUBLIC LECTURE: TEODOR SHANIN, Professor of Sociology, University of Manchester, will speak on "The Concept of Nacional'nost' in Russian and Comparative European Perspective."
- Thur Sept 5 442 Stephens 7:30 pm
FILM: Hamlet, directed by Grigori Kozintsev, based on the Shakespear play, script adapted from the translation by Pasternak, musical score by Shostakovich; (1964, 147 mins); in Russian with English titles.
- Fue Sept 10 cba Noon
BAG LUNCH: TEODOR SHANIN, Professor of Sociology, University of Manchester, will report on his current research on the Russian peasantry in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Room will be posted outside 361 Stephens.
- Fri Sept 13 442 Stephens 7:30, 9:15 pm
FILMS: East European film series, Friday evenings through the 27th. Tonight, two from Hungary: Love (Szelerem), directed by Karoly Makk (1971, 92 mins); and Photography (Fotografia), directed by Pal Zolnay (1974, 82 mins); both in Hungarian with English titles.
- Fri Sept 20 442 Stephens 7:30, 9:25 pm
FILMS: Sinbad (Szinbad), directed by Zoltan Huszarik (Hungary, 1972, 98 mins), in Hungarian with English titles; and A Case for the New Hangman (Pripad pro zacinijiciho kata), directed by Pavel Juracek (Czechoslovakia, 1969, 120 mins), in Czech with English titles.
- Fri Sept 27 442 Stephens 7:30, 8:55 pm
FILMS: Two Hungarian films: Girl (Eltavozott nap), (1968, 70 mins), and Adoption (Orokbefogadas), (1975, 89 mins), both directed by Marta Meszaros, in Hungarian with English titles.

Information on the Bag Lunch scheduled for 25 September will be printed in the Calendar Update.

SLAVIC CENTER JOINS NATIONWIDE COMPUTER NETWORK! Center faculty and graduate students are participating in a nationwide computer network organized for Soviet and East European studies by Thane Gustafson, Director, Georgetown University Center for Strategic and International Studies Soviet Project. The network, called 'Sovset', operates through the commercial computer telecommunications service Compuserve. It can be used to relay messages via modem and a local phone call to participants anywhere in the world, and messages can be up- and down-loaded from the service. Sovset can handle messages up to about ten double-spaced pages long. Participation can be arranged through the Center. Georgetown publishes individual reports on events and research in an electronic newsletter.

SLAVIC CENTER READING ROOM - 340 Stephens Hall

The Reading Room, in the IIS Library, holds a large collection of newspapers, magazines, and periodicals for research use, with materials in many languages. Some of the most widely used journals are listed below with the dates of last issues received.

Canadian Slavonic Papers	1985 #1	Polish Review	1984 #4
Current Digest of the Soviet Press	1985 #29	Revue des Etudes Slaves	1984 #4
East European Quarterly	1985 #2	Russian History	1983 #3
FBIS - East Europe	1985 #137	Russian Review	1984 #1
FBIS - Soviet Union	1985 #137	Slavic & East European Journal	1984 #4
Jahrbucher fur Geschichte Osteuropa	1984 #2	Soviet Geography	1985 #4
Kommunist	1985 #11	Soviet Studies	1985 #3
Kritika	1984 #1 *	Soviet Union/Union Sovietique	1984 #3
Kultura	1985 #6	Studies in Comp. Communism	1985 #1
Osteuropa	1985 #6

*last issue to be printed of Kritika.

Center for Slavic and East European Studies
University of California
372 Stephens Hall
Berkeley, CA 94720
IV 03